Brian Suerth Joins the Executive MBA Advisory Board at San Diego State University

Partner at TAG and VoiceSmart Networks Gives Back to Alma Mater

SAN DIEGO, CA — March 1, 2011 — Brian Suerth, an alumnus of the SDSU Executive MBA program, has recently joined San Diego State University's Executive MBA Advisory Board. SDSU's Executive MBA program is designed specifically for working adults who are looking to enhance their leadership skills and move up the ladder in the highly competitive world of business. The SDSU College of Business Administration's EMBA program is the most established program in the region with courses taught by SDSU department chairs and professors that are leaders in their areas of specialization. As an advisor on this board, Brian contributes to the overall mission and future growth of this respected educational program.

Brian has had much experience in the high level business world since his graduation from the program in 2005. He has since made partner at TAG, a dominant international organization in the unified communications industry whose members benefit from a variety of programs including best business and management practices, managed IT services, advanced sales training and processes, in-depth financial analysis and benchmarking, and strategic partnerships. He has also since made partner of Voice Smart Networks, an active member of Technology Assurance Group and Southern California's leading unified communications company. In addition, Suerth was recognized in the 2009 September issue of San Diego's Metropolitan Magazine and awarded the prestigious "40 under 40" award which identifies the achievements of young business and civic leaders in the San Diego Community. "Being a part of the SDSU Executive MBA program was a major milestone of my professional career," commented Mr. Suerth, "My hope is that by sitting on the Advisory Board I can contribute and ultimately assist others with their professional goals."
